

Fish market and seafood cuisine

from the boats

We rely on direct relationships with trusted buyers and fishermen who respect the natural cycles of the sea to ensure you receive a supply that protects marine biodiversity and fish stocks

to auctions

Every morning, we select the best fish from Mediterranean fish markets, fish auctions and fisheries (FAO 37) to guarantee quality and freshness.

to our counter

We fillet the fish every day in order to bring a large and fresh variety of products to our counter.

to your table

We cook simple recipes to enhance taste so that you can enjoy all the goodness of the sea

Depending on the availability of the sea, fish products arrive at our shop from qualified suppliers in a cold chain at -20° or +4°. If fresh, they may be subjected to blast chilling before cooking to ensure maximum safety. Products to be consumed raw are subject to sanitary decontamination in accordance with Reg. (EC) 853/04 Annex III sec. VIII, chap. 3, letter D, as subsequently amended and supplemented. We would like to point out that in the absence of fresh product, we use high-quality frozen products (products marked with an asterisk). For more info, please see the ingredients book and allergens.
